

Summer Writing Camp

"My daughter has been attending the RIWP Writing Camp for 5 years. The staff members are always wonderful with the students. Every day my daughter comes home telling about her morning at camp. I feel that the program helps prepare her for the upcoming school year and helps keep her engaged in literacy throughout the summer."

- Summer Camp Parent

Rhode Island Writing Project (RIWP) Summer Writing Camp is a two-week program designed for students in grades K-12 who enjoy writing. Staffed by experienced local educators, the purpose of our camp is to help students develop their writing and share their work in a lively, interactive, supportive community. Camp features include:

- Writing exercises designed to jumpstart thinking and improve each writer's craft.
- Exploration of the work of published authors to use as models in a variety of genres.
- Freedom to explore individual writing interests.
- Opportunities to collaborate with instructors and peers and to receive constructive feedback for revision.
- A space for students to see themselves as writers with unique voices.

Our 2018 camp will take place:

July 9-20, Monday-Friday

9 a.m.-Noon

Rhode Island College

Tuition is $225.

Registration begins March 15 and ends June 25.

RHODE ISLAND COLLEGE

THERE IS POWER IN EVERY G.I.R.L.

Picture this: a safe, no-limits place where she can try new things, take on challenges, build community, and inspire others! That's Girl Scouts. A place where "Can I?" quickly turns into "I will." and then "I did!". Where your G.I.R.L. (Go-getter, Innovator, Risk-taker, Leader)[™] can transform her ideas into action, turn her questions into adventure, and grow her confidence through hands-on practice. All in a girl-led, girl-focused, girl-centric environment designed just for her!

Join us at the following event to learn more!
Saturday, April 21, 2018
10:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Attleboro Girl Scouts will be helping with the Beautify Attleboro Initiative by cleaning up an area of Capron Park near Bushee Street.

During this time we will have some STEM tables for the kids to enjoy.

So bring a lunch and bring the family down and see what scouting is all about while cleaning up Attleboro.

Any questions contact Tina Middleton: giraffe80@aol.com.
